Rights of Residents of the State of California, United States:

We may disclose personal data to affiliates of the Partnership, which may use this information for all purposes outlined in this Privacy Notice. Under California Civil Code Section 1798.83, separate legal entities are considered "third parties" and certain communications with our affiliates might be viewed as promoting our services. Therefore, we are providing the following information for California residents who have provided us with their personal data during the creation of or during the course of an established business relationship that is primarily for personal, family, or household purposes ("California Residents").

We may collect information that is considered "sensitive" under some laws including the CCPA, such as your account log-in if you log into our portal. When we do so, we use such information only for lawful purposes in compliance with the CCPA, GDPR and other applicable privacy laws, such as to perform the services or provide the goods requested by you and to resist malicious, deceptive, fraudulent or illegal actions.

In addition to applicable Subscriber Rights described above, Individual California Residents may request information about our disclosures of certain categories of personal data to third parties (i.e., our affiliates) for such third parties' direct marketing purpose, consistent with California Civil Code Section 1798.83.

Individual California Residents may submit requests to us at the contact information specified below in "How to Contact Us."

In response, we will provide a list of the categories of "Personal Information", as that term is defined by California Civil Code Section 1798.83, disclosed to third parties for direct marketing purposes during the immediately preceding calendar year, along with the names and addresses of these third parties.

This request may be made no more than once per calendar year. We reserve our right not to respond to requests submitted other than to the contact information specified below in "How to Contact Us".

We do not currently sell your personal data or share your personal data for cross-contextual advertising purposes, as the term "sell" or "sale" is defined under the CCPA and have not done so within the past 12 months.

Additional provisions under CDPA

In respect of each Cayman Partnership, the General Partner acting as general partner of the Cayman Partnership shall be a data controller for the purposes of the CDPA. As the Manager is not established in the Cayman Islands and does not process any personal data in the Cayman Islands, it is not subject to the provisions of the CDPA and is not a data controller for the purposes of the CDPA.

In addition to the circumstances detailed under the heading "Disclosure of personal data" above, in respect of any Cayman Partnership, we may also share relevant personal data where it is lawful to do so and necessary to comply with our contractual obligations, the partnership agreement of the Cayman Partnership or your instructions or where it is necessary or desirable to do so in connection with any regulatory reporting obligations. In exceptional circumstances, we will share your personal data with regulatory, prosecuting and other governmental agencies or departments, and parties to litigation (whether pending or threatened), in any country or territory, including with any other person where we have a public or legal or regulatory duty or obligation to do so (e.g. to assist with detecting and preventing fraud, tax evasion or financial crime or compliance with a court order or to satisfy a legal or regulatory obligation relating to anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing, sanctions, the provision of beneficial ownership information or the maintenance of statutory registers).

In respect of any Cayman Partnership, any transfer of personal data outside of the Cayman Islands shall be in accordance with the requirements of the CDPA. Where necessary, we will ensure that separate and appropriate legal agreements are put in place with the recipient of that data. For example, where personal data is to be transferred to a person in a country which does not have data protection laws equivalent to the CDPA, the General Partner will ensure it puts in place appropriate safeguards, such as contracts which seek to ensure that any data processor is contractually bound to provide an adequate level of protection in respect of the personal data transferred to it and that any such transfer complies with the requirements of the CDPA.

In addition to the rights detailed under the heading "Subscriber Rights" in respect of any Cayman Partnership, you have the following rights under the CDPA:

- (a) the right to be informed as to how we collect and use your personal data;
- (b) the right to be notified of a data breach (unless the breach is unlikely to be prejudicial);
- (c) the right to obtain information as to any countries or territories outside the Cayman Islands to which we, whether directly or indirectly, transfer, intend to transfer or wish to transfer your personal data, the general measures we take to ensure the security of personal data and any information available to us as to the source of your personal data; and
- (d) the right to complain to the Office of the Ombudsman of the Cayman Islands (you can access their website here: ombudsman.ky).

The right to ask for personal data portability, specified under the heading "Subscriber Rights" above, is not an express right under the CDPA but we may recognise this right in respect of Cayman Partnerships at our discretion.

Retention of Personal Data: We will retain your personal data for as long as we need it to exercise and perform our contractual rights and obligations or to pursue our legitimate interests or for any longer period required by law or regulation. In general, we will retain your personal data throughout the period of your investment in the Partnership concerned.

Changes to Privacy Notice: The General Partner and the Manager reserve the right to update this Privacy Notice at any time, and will ensure that any update to this privacy notice is made available on its website www.pep.co.je. We encourage you to regularly review this and any updated Privacy Notice to ensure that you are always aware of how personal data is collected, used, stored and disclosed. We may also notify you in other ways from time to time about the processing of your personal data.
